end of the year, Ms. Thompson opened Teddy's school file and wrote, "Teddy has started to work hard again. It is clear that he is one of the smartest children in the class." For Ms. Thompson, Teddy was no longer any different from her other students.

A year later, she found a note under her door. It was from Teddy and it said that she was still his greatest teacher.

Another letter that arrived six years later told her that he finished high school and that she was still his favorite teacher.

Four years after that, another letter arrived which said he would soon graduate from college with the highest honors. He told Ms. Thompson that she was still his all-time best teacher.

Then four more years passed and yet another letter came. This time he explained that he kept studying after finishing college and that now he became a doctor. He said again that she was still his greatest teacher.

The story does not end there. There was another letter that spring. Teddy said that he was going to get married, and he wanted Ms. Thompson to come to the wedding.

Of course, Ms. Thompson ④did. She wore that old necklace. *Moreover, she made sure to wear the special perfume.

They held each other *tightly, and Dr. Stoddard said quietly to Ms. Thompson, "Thank you for believing in me. You taught me that I am important. You taught me that I could make a difference."

Ms. Thompson had tears in her eyes, and said to him, "Teddy, you have it wrong. You were the one who taught me that I could make a difference. I didn't know how to teach until I met you."

*dirty : 汚い *file : 書類を綴じ込んだもの *excellent : すばらしい *ashamed : 恥ずかしい
 *one-quarter full of perfume : 4分の1だけ入った香水 *smell : 香りがする *attitude : 態度
 *moreover : さらに *tightly : しっかりと
